

CANALETTO

Collection ITALIAN CLASSIC

Description

Wallcoverings that resemble embroideries on the wall like ancient tapestries, an effect achieved through the materiality and three-dimensionality of the embossing technique and, for some variations, through the application of velvet overprint. The classic damask patterns are revisited here in different graphic expressions: from the larger ones like the classic Italian damask to the Syrian reference for rounded geometries or the refined strictness of the Central European style.
